NCNDA – NON DISCLOSURE AND NON CIRCUMVENTION:

(BINDING SECTION)

NOTE: THIS SECTION WILL REMAIN VALID ALSO FOR FUTURE BUSINESS RELATIONSHIP WITH A VALIDITY PERIOD OF AT LEAST 5 YEARS.

Definitions:

“disclosing party” means a party to this agreement when it discloses Confidential Information to the other party

“recipient” means a party to this agreement acting as a recipient of Confidential Information of the other party.

Purpose: Both parties desire to engage in discussions regarding present or potential business relationships including a commodity transaction. In connection with these discussions, it may be necessary or desirable for the disclosing party to provide the recipient with, or allow the recipient access to, proprietary technical or business documentation or other confidential information belonging to the disclosing party, or of a third party to which the disclosing party is under an obligation of confidentiality (collectively referred to as "Confidential Information"). Each party believes that its Confidential Information has significant commercial value, which could be diminished by unauthorized use or disclosure. Accordingly, each party's commitment to confidentiality in this Agreement is a condition to the other party's willingness to engage in the contemplated business discussions.

Confidentiality: Both parties and their employees, agents and independent contractors ("Representatives") will treat as strictly confidential all Confidential Information and proprietary third-party products that the “Disclosing Party” provides in connection with this Agreement and will not use them except in connection with the performance of this Agreement. They will not disclose or duplicate Confidential Information or third-part products to anyone not having a need to know in connection with the performance of this Agreement to anyone except by applicable Law, but only to the extent necessary in connection with performing their duties under this Agreement. On termination of this Agreement, or at the request of a Disclosing Party before termination, the Company and its Representatives will return or destroy any confidential information in their possession.

Confidential Information: "Confidential Information" shall be deemed to include all information conveyed by the disclosing party to the recipient orally, in writing, by demonstration, or by electronic, magnetic or other media. "Confidential Information" as used in this Agreement shall mean any and all business plans, transaction proposals, technical and non-technical information including patent, copyright, trade secret, and proprietary information, techniques, sketches, drawings, models, inventions, know how, processes, apparatus, equipment, algorithms, software programs, software source documents, and formulae related to the current, future and proposed products and services of Disclosing Party, and includes, without limitation information concerning research, mines, petroleum contracts, commodities, minerals, experimental work, development, design details and specifications, engineering, financial information, procurement requirements, purchasing, manufacturing, customer lists, business forecasts, financial lenders, sales and merchandising, and marketing plans and information.

However, Confidential Information shall not include information that can be clearly demonstrated to be:

Generally known or available to the public, through no act or omission on the part of the recipient; or

Known to the recipient prior to disclosure by the disclosing party, as evidenced by the recipient's written records in existence prior to disclosure by the disclosing party;

Provided to the recipient by a third party without any restriction on disclosure and without breach of any obligation of confidentiality to the disclosing party.

Return of Materials: Upon request by the disclosing party, the recipient shall promptly return to the disclosing party all drawings, specifications, data and other tangible materials containing Confidential Information, together with all copies. In addition, the recipient shall certify in a form reasonably satisfactory to the disclosing party that all tangible Confidential Information has been returned and any references thereto, and the destruction of any references thereto on electronic, magnetic or other intangible media.

Recipient's Obligation of Confidentiality: The recipient agrees to the following:

The recipient shall use Confidential Information only for purposes of the internal evaluation or subsequent performance of a business relationship with the disclosing party or its affiliates, as contemplated by this Agreement;

The recipient shall not disclose or communicate Confidential Information to any third party, and shall protect the Confidential Information with a reasonable degree of care, which shall not be less than the same degree of care which the recipient uses to prevent the unauthorized use, dissemination or publication of its own most valuable confidential and proprietary information;

The recipient shall permit access to Confidential Information only to recipients who:

Reasonably require access to Confidential Information for purposes approved by this Agreement;

Have undertaken a binding written obligation of confidentiality with respect to the trade secrets of others entrusted to him or her; and

Have been apprised of this Agreement, and the recipient's obligation to maintain the trade secret status of Confidential Information and to restrict its use solely for the benefit of the disclosing party.

Confidentiality of Discussions: The applicant agrees that except as may be required by law or specifically authorized by the disclosing party, it shall not disclose to any third party the facts of its discussions or negotiations concerning a possible transaction with the disclosing party, or any of the terms or conditions of possible or actual transactions.

Non-solicitation: During the term of this Agreement and for a period of five (5) years following the termination of this Agreement, both parties agree that they shall not directly or indirectly call on, solicit, render services for or hire away any employee of the other party as a result of performing services under this Agreement.

Injunctive Relief: Both Parties acknowledge and agree that any breach of the provisions of this Agreement may result in irreparable harm to the other Party for which damages would be an inadequate remedy. In the event of such breach, and in addition to all rights and remedies otherwise available at law, the non-breaching party shall be entitled to equitable relief including without limitation, court costs and reasonable attorneys' fees as well as an injunction to enjoin the other Party from disclosing any Confidential Information or any of its clients or from dealing directly with prospects of the violation.

Money damages may not be a sufficient remedy for any breach of this Agreement, and it is hereby agreed that the parties will be entitled to specific performance as a remedy for any such breach. Such remedy shall not be deemed to be the exclusive remedy for any such breach, but shall be in addition to all other remedies available at law or equity.

Both Parties further agree that the offending Party shall be obligated to reimburse the other Party for any and all costs, including reasonable attorneys' fees, incurred to successfully enforce this section.

Miscellaneous:

This Agreement shall be deemed effective as of the date indicated on the first page and shall continue in full force and effect for a period of five years from such date.

The Confidential Information is the property of the disclosing party and the ownership of, and all right, title and interest therein shall at all times remain exclusively vested in the disclosing party. No License or intellectual property right is conveyed by this Agreement.

The disclosing party makes no representation or warranty in relation to any of the Confidential Information, its adequacy, accuracy, or suitability for any purpose, and except as expressly agreed in writing shall not be liable for any loss or damage arising from the use of any Confidential Information, howsoever caused.

Notwithstanding the execution of this Agreement, each party maintains the sole and absolute discretion to determine what, if any, of the Confidential Information it will release to the other party.

No agency or partnership relationship is created between the parties by this Agreement. Both Parties agree that they are not and will not become an employee, partner or principal of the other party while this Agreement is in effect. Both parties also agree that they are not entitled to the rights or benefits afforded to the other party's employees, including disability or unemployment insurance, workers' compensation, medical insurance, sick leave, or any other employment benefit. Each party is responsible for providing, at its own expense, disability, unemployment, and other insurance, workers' compensation, training, permits, and licenses for itself.

This Agreement supersedes any and all agreements, either oral or written, between the parties with respect to Non-Disclosure and Non-Circumvention between the two Parties. It contains all of the representations, covenants, and agreements between the parties with respect to the rendering of those services. Each party to this Agreement acknowledges that no representations, inducements, promises, or agreements, orally or otherwise, have been made by any party, or anyone acting on behalf of any parties, which are not contained in this Agreement. No other agreement, statement, or promise not contained in this document will be valid or binding. Any modification of this Agreement will be effective only if it is in a writing signed by both parties.

WARNING LETTER FOR BUYER, SELLER, INTERMEDIATES and INTRODUCERS

MAR, 2018

This is a very important message to anyone involved in the commodities industry on the new measures with respect to Buyers and Sellers conducting transactions.

From now on, if an ICPO, LOI, RWA, or BCL is issued and the document is not real, true and/or actually verifiably factual, the Buyer will be able to inform the FBI, ICC, and INTERPOL. In addition, after an FCO is sent to the Buyer, there should be a formal answer to Seller from Buyer in a timely manner in accordance with the agreement between parties.

If there is no response from the Buyer in a timely manner, the buying company will be reported to the FBI, ICC and INTERPOL. If this action is repeated by sellers, they too will also be reported for abuse of the NCNDA, LOI, ICPO, AND RWA OR BCL, FOR THIS IS NOW A FEDERAL OFFENSE.

It is important to transmit this to all clients that work with providers that are members of the ICC, FBI, and other international organizations. From this point forward, the international codes will be strictly enforced to exclude all intruders that send or transmit false information. Those who submit a false NCNDA/IMFPA, LOI, ICPO, RWA or BCL, or FCO, as well as FALSE PROOF OF PRODUCT (POP), FALSE PROOF OF FUNDS (POF) WILL BE CHARGED WITH A CRIME.

This offense went into effect on November 15, 2008 after a meeting was held between the Federal Reserve, European Central Bank, Interpol, Federal Bureau of Investigation and Central Intelligence Agency.

The reason for this measurement is to protect the commodities industry which is a fundamental part of the world's economy.

I have read and understood the severity of the warning above and do realize the serious impact that pertains to all oil and other commodities transactions.
